Local Briefs.

—Cotton begins to come in quite freely. The prices averages about 94 cents.

—We ought to have next Saturday the biggest meeting of red-shirt Democrats since 1876.

—We hope that our friends when they sell their cotton will remember their promises to pay their subscription "in the fall".

—The Democratic Clubs will assemble in full force on the College green, in this place, at ten o'clock on next Saturday morning.

—Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. W. D. Aiken, published in another column. The property offered for sale is especially desirable.

—Let the meeting next Saturday show the Radicals that Fairfield means to do her full duty in the achievement of a splendid Democratic victory in November.

—Nearly all the merchants are home from the North and car-loads of goods are coming into the town upon every train. Some are gloomy over the prospects of a good fall trade, but we are not. We hope and we believe that there are indications of a moderately brisk trade during the ensuing fall and winter months.

—We have been diligent in our inquiries about the crop prospects all over the county. The results of our inquiries lead us to predict that about a half crop of cotton, or a little better, will be made in this county. The corn in upland will turn out well—fully up to the average—while the lowland corn is nearly a failure. Taking into consideration the small quantity of upland corn that was planted and the failure of bottom corn, it would be safe to say that the corn crop will be about a half crop.

DEATH.—Little Johnnie L. Broom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Broom, of this county, died of diphtheria on the 31st inst., after a short illness.

PERSONAL.—Miss Alice Barkley, of Nicholasville, Ky., is visiting her sister in this place, Mrs. W. R. Doty. We hope she will remain some time among our people.

A POPULAR SCHOOL.—The Due West Female College in the next scholastic year will have quite a large representation from Fairfield county. Six young ladies will go there from Wimborsboro and probably as many from the county.

THE JUDICIAL CONVENTION.—Hon. H. B. Massey, the chairman of the Judicial Convention which sat at Chester some weeks ago, has decided to call the old convention together again. It will meet at Chester on Monday, the 6th day of October, at 5.30 p. m.

COMMISSIONERS OF ELECTION.—Governor Thompson has appointed the following-named gentlemen Commissioners of Election for Fairfield: State and County—Henry A. Gaillard, Charles E. Thomas, Osmond W. Buchanan, Federal—Glenn W. Ragsdale, R. E. Ellison, Jno. S. Reynolds.

OFF FOR COLUMBIA.—Mr. P. M. Brice left on Friday for Columbia. Mr. Brice goes to Columbia to begin work in the graded schools of that city as first assistant. He will doubtless perform his duties well and faithfully and efficiently. We hope for him unbounded success.

THE FOURTH DISTRICT.—Stolbrand and Straker have both declined the Republican nomination for Congress in this Congressional district. This leaves the field to Mr. David R. Penster, of this county, and the Hon. Wm. H. Perry, of Greenville. Of course Mr. Perry will be elected.

PERSONAL.—The Rev. N. E. Pressly, of Tampico, Mexico, is now in Wimborsboro, visiting friends and relatives. Mr. Pressly is the missionary of the Associate Reformed Church in Mexico, and we are glad to say is doing a very useful and successful work there. He is looking strong and well. We hope he will remain sometime in our midst.

PAY YOUR TAXES.—The time for the payment of the second and last installment of State and county taxes will have expired on the 20th day of this month, and as yet comparatively few have complied. Those who would avoid the bustle and rush of the crowd should make it their business to call on Treasurer Davis the first opportunity and procure a receipt with his signature.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Sol. Wolfe left Wimborsboro for her home in Texas a few days ago. Mrs. Wolfe has been in Wimborsboro three months or more, and during her visit here made many warm friends among both the young and old people of our town. All of her acquaintances and newly-made friends have regretted very much to see her leave. We wish for her a pleasant and safe journey home.

Mrs. H. B. Pratt, of Lancaster, is now in town visiting old friends. She is a welcome visitor here. We hope she will enjoy her stay in Wimborsboro.

Scorfula, and all forms of scrofulous diseases, are rapidly purged out by the use Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

JOURNALIST.—Col. John W. R. Pope has resumed his connection with the editorial department of the Columbia Register. His resumption of editorial work will be an acquisition to the journalism of the State.

Messrs. M. L. Bonham, Jr., Thos. R. Cothern and J. M. Perrin have taken charge of the material of the Greenville Argus, and will hereafter issue a weekly paper at Abbeville C. H., under the style of the Messenger. The staff of the new paper contains all the elements of success, and we doubt not that it will take a high place among the papers of the State.

MUSIC FOR THE FOURTH.—The Citizens' Cornet Band of this place has sold all of its old instruments to some negroes near White Oak, who are now trying to organize a band. This leaves the Band here with scarcely the requisite number of instruments. So we are to conclude that the Band will be unable to furnish music at the Democratic mass meeting here on the 4th of October. The Crosbyville Band has been invited and has signified its willingness to be present on that occasion if the proper arrangements are made for them. Will not the Democratic Clubs in town take some steps to this end? Music will be a necessity on that day, and the Crosbyville Band is an excellent organization.

COTTON STATEMENT.—The following is the comparative cotton statement for the week ending September 26, 1884: Not receipts at all United States ports during the week 177,888; to same time last year 125,053; total receipts to this date 256,050; to same date last year 272,605. Exports for the week 34,947; same week last year 38,842; total exports to this date 87,632; to same date last year 96,347. Stock at all United States ports 226,265; same time last year 340,892; stock at all interior towns 15,067; same time last year 43,223; stock at Liverpool 587,000; same time last year 675,000; stock of American cotton for Great Britain 29,000; same time last year 23,000.

THE GAME LAW.—For the information of sportsmen and gunners, we copy below the law in reference to the season in which birds and other wild game may be killed without incurring the penalty of the statute. The General Statutes provide as follows:

Sec. 1694. It shall not be lawful for any person in this State between the 15th day of March and the 1st day of October in any year hereafter, to catch, kill or injure, or pursue with such intent, or to sell or expose for sale, any wild turkey, partridge, dove, woodcock or pheasant; and any person found guilty thereof shall be fined not less than ten dollars or be imprisoned not less than ten days, which fine, if imposed, shall go, one-half thereof to the informer, and the other half thereof to the school fund of the county where the offense was committed.

THE MARKET.—Cotton is now coming in town in considerable quantities every day, and it is selling very well and at moderately good prices. It is claimed by some people that Wimborsboro is not as good a market as some of the neighboring towns. We believe that our friends are incorrectly informed and the cotton merchants here challenge careful and impartial investigation. It may be that in some places the very highest grades of cotton sell somewhat better, but it is claimed by the cotton buyers here that the average between the prices for good and bad cotton is better than in Chester and as good as in Columbia. We hope our cotton planters will, therefore, "look before they leap", and not give Wimborsboro "the go-by" without cause.

GOOD ROADS.—Mr. Jas. Q. Davis has been, for several weeks past, traveling over the county, collecting the county and State taxes, and he reports the public highways in better condition than they have been for years. We are glad to learn of this, because complaints of a general character about the condition of the roads have been heard from various sections of the county. The present admirable condition of the highways is a compliment to the efficiency and fidelity of the present board of county commissioners; and these gentlemen, leaving the office as they will shortly do, merit the hearty well-wish of the good people of Fairfield county, regardless of color or party affiliation. The new board to be elected in November next will continue to carry on the good work begun and will doubtless serve the county faithfully.

THE BETHEL PRESBYTERY.—The last session of the Bethel Presbytery of the Southern Presbyterian Church was held at Catholic church, in Chester county last week. The meeting was an ordinarily full one, but there was little business of public interest to be transacted. The only question of much concern to the people generally was the one growing out of Dr. Woodrow's views on evolution, which was brought before that body in the shape of a resolution of censure. The discussion was heated and animated, but the vote when counted showed that the resolution was lost. It was argued for Dr. Woodrow that his views upon the subject of evolution were not extreme—that they could be reconciled with the Bible—that he is a Christian evolutionist.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?—It is now the subject of much speculation among the Democrats as to whether or not the Republicans will place a ticket in the field in this county. We believe that the drift of opinion is that they will not have the hardihood to undertake such a job, but a considerable number may be found who entertain different opinions. The secrecy with which the last Republican convention was held in this place, about ten days ago, seem to be some evidence that they mean something. The convention was held in the colored Odd Fellows' Hall and all over before any one knew of it. It would be infinitely better for the Democratic party if it had more earnest and vigorous opposition. It would hold together the rank and file of the party.

THE A. R. SYNOD.—The Synod of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church of the South met in Lexington county, Virginia, last week. The Rev. R. G. Miller, pastor of New Hope church in this county, was elected Moderator, and his bearing as presiding officer of that body was the subject of many flattering comments. Mr. Miller was very happy in reply to the address of the delegate from the United Presbyterian Church, and he is deservedly esteemed one of the most talented and promising young ministers in his church. The meeting was very largely attended and generally regarded as one of the most interesting for a number of years. We are sorry that we cannot give a full account of it. The Synod will meet next year at Due West, S. C.

THE ISSUE SQUARELY MADE.—The Republican Convention, recently in session in Columbia, has nominated a full State ticket and very properly turned its back on the Fiddlers. The following is the ticket nominated: For Governor, D. T. Corbin, of Charleston; for Lieutenant-Governor, D. A. Straker, of Columbia; for Adjutant-General, Gen. Carlos J. Stollbrand, of Chester; for Treasurer, C. C. Macoy, of Chester; for Secretary of State, R. L. Smith, of Charleston; for Superintendent of Education, the Rev. Joshua Wilson, of Florence; for Attorney-General, Samuel W. Melton, of Columbia; for Comptroller-General, E. J. Sawyer, of Bennettsville. The ticket is perhaps as good as could have been nominated, considering the material from which a selection could be made. Of Mr. Corbin it might be said that he is a man of more than ordinary ability and a known and recognized partisan. It will be remembered that this is the same Corbin that unsuccessfully contested Senator Butler's seat in the United States Senate. With the exception of Mr. Melton, and he is a man of considerable brilliancy, there is but little ability represented in the personnel of this ticket. We are happy though that this Convention saw proper to nominate a ticket. It will fire the Democratic heart, smother the factional murmurings of malcontents and teach the friends of our civilization to rally to the standard and cause of the Democratic party. Let every Democrat wake up and see to it that the State and county canvasses are life-like and vigorous.

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.—Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, the holiest day in the calendar of the Israelites, began at sundown on Sunday evening, and closed at the same hour on Monday. The stores of all the Israelites here were closed, and the day was duly observed by them. The day is especially sacred among all the faithful, and is always carefully observed. Although God has declared that on the Day of Atonement man shall atone for all his sins, the prophets and sages of Israel show that the declaration refers only to transgressions of the Divine law. Sins between man and his fellow man are not forgiven unless every reparation has been made to the wronged party. It is, therefore, obligatory upon every son of Israel who has wronged his neighbor by word or deed to solicit his forgiveness before the advent of the Day of Atonement in order that he may appear in the presence of his God with a clear conscience, void of offence to his fellow man. It is also the duty of every man to forgive those who ask it, for if he is not lenient to the feelings of others he cannot expect that the Almighty will extend mercy to him. God has proclaimed that on this day Israel "shall afflict his soul"; that he shall be detached from all sensual enjoyment; that he shall abstain from food and water for twenty-four hours, and also from all association with worldly affairs, and that his soul shall be wrapt in holy communion with his Maker, and pour forth its tribute of sincere repentance unalloyed by any feeling that may diminish its purity. It was on this day that the High Priest, clothed in white robes, emblematic of purity, entered the sanctum sanctorum of the Temple at Jerusalem, and with eyes raised to heaven and hands to the forehead, forming the peculiar figure of the priesthood, invoked for the assembled thousands of his people that sacred benediction which has been incorporated into the liturgy of almost every religious demonstration.

CHARADES AND CONCERT.

The evening of the 17th inst. found us gathered in Mr. J. A. Grigsby's gin-house, to enjoy an entertainment given by the Blytheville School, Mrs. Annie R. Simmons teacher. The exercises commenced at seven o'clock, with salutatory by Master Willie Grigsby. He made some of the young ladies and gentlemen think he was striking at them pretty heavily, which caused a rosy color to be stamped upon their cheeks. Next was "The Trials of a School Teacher," which was carried out to perfection. All the children did well, which proved that they were not taught by an ordinary teacher, but by one who possesses talents rarely found. The school sang some beautiful pieces, which could not fail being appreciated by any one who had any appreciation about him whatever. Next was charades. Not knowing the name of the piece we are unable to give it; but it was as fine as we generally find in the theatres. Each of the actors played his part extremely well, to the surprise of all. Permit us here to compliment the girls upon their splendid acting and sweet looks, especially in the last scene, which represented a marriage. The girls looked more like angels than mere human beings. We were glad to see a large number of ladies and gentlemen out. All seemed to enjoy it very much. Blytheville and Ridgeway were represented by several of their gentlemanly young men. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons furnished music, which was certainly fine. About 12 o'clock we started home, all in full enjoyment. We cannot pronounce the entertainment anything else but an entire success.

Mr. Simmons has been spending several weeks with us, during which time he has been assisting Mrs. Simmons in teaching. We regret to know they are going to leave us in a few weeks; they will be greatly missed. May they continue in their useful and successful work training the young.

ITEMS FROM BLACKSTOCK.

The Blackstock correspondent of the Chester Reporter says:

—Mrs. Mary L. Thorn has gone to Staunton, Va., to attend the Virginia Female Institute.

—Mr. J. C. Mackorell has now with him two gentlemen direct from Ireland—one a blacksmith, the other a mechanic.

—The new brick store-house of Mr. J. E. Johnston is now complete and ready to move into, which he contemplates doing in a very few days.

—Mr. Andrew Boyd has now charge of the livery stable, and persons coming from a distance can have their horses fed and cared for now during their sojourn in the "city".

—Messrs. J. E. Johnston, G. L. Kennedy and J. E. Douglas have been in the Northern markets for several days, laying in their fall stock. Mr. Douglas returned last week.

—Mr. W. H. Riggsbee, artist, is now at Blackstock. He is enlarging photographs in the style of crayon drawings. Mr. W. H. Finch, of Nash county, N. C., is also here, a representative of the same profession.

—Mr. P. L. Langford, our depot agent and telegraph operator, has gone to Prosperity, Newberry county, to take charge of the office at that place, and Mr. Willie Thompson, of Walhalla, has taken charge of the office here.

—Miss Maggie Erwin, of Texas, who has been, for the last two months, visiting relatives here, left last Monday for her distant home. She is a daughter of the Rev. T. W. Erwin, formerly of this place, but now of Texas.

—Mr. W. B. Thompson's school is now in active operation, and I will just here remark that persons having children to send to a boarding school, could not get a better place to send them than to Mr. Thompson, who takes them under his own roof and watches over them the same as he does his own children, aiding them in the evenings in the preparation of their lessons when necessary.

—The Rev. J. C. McMullen has asked his congregation to unite with him in asking Presbytery to release him from his charge in order that he may enter upon the Evangelistic work to which he was appointed at the last regular meeting of Presbytery. The congregation held a meeting last Sabbath and by an overwhelming majority decided to protest against Mr. McMullen's resignation, and appointed a committee to represent them at Presbytery.

—The Rev. Dr. Boyce, of the Theological Seminary at Due West, and who has recently returned from a visit to Ireland, a fact of which many of your readers are conversant, preached at Hopewell on the first Sunday in this month. Although he has passed his "threescore and ten," he is by no means superannuated. He enjoys talking of his visit to the "British Isles" and says he has been feeling much stronger since he recovered from a spell of sea-sickness which he had on his return voyage.

A New Postoffice Offer.

WASHINGTON, September 27.—Acting Postmaster General Hutton has issued an order that on and after October 1, 1884, all postoffices of the first-class and their stations or branch offices shall be kept open to the public for the issue and payment of money orders and for the receipt of matter wares; they will be granted every day except Sundays and legal holidays.

OBITUARY.

DIED, September 17, 1884, 3 p. m., at Ridgeway, S. C., little EMILIE, fourth child of A. F. and M. E. Ruff, aged seven years and five months. After a painful illness of ten days, in which she patiently endured the sufferings caused by that terrible disease, diphtheria, she gently and peacefully fell asleep to wake to a glorious immortality. Dedicated to the God of the Covenant in the sacred ordinance of baptism, death can claim no victory here. He came reborn of his tears. Endowed with a voice of great sweetness, she had learned to sing some of the "Sweet Songs of Zion" with surprising power for one so young. Sweet and comforting is the thought that joined with that "choir of ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands," she now stands before the Great White Throne, singing the praises of her Redeemer.

DIED, at his father's home in Fairfield, S. C., September 5, 1884, little OLLIE ROBINSON BLAIR, son of Mr. W. Mc. and Mrs. Mamie R. Blair. He was born June 8, 1878, and was cut off after an illness of only four days. The body was brought to Union C. H., where his mother was reared, and buried in the village cemetery. God claimed him thus early, and while the hearts of the parents are filled with grief, they are consoled by the thought that he is at rest, and that they have another call to meet him, when there shall be no more parting. The Lord help them to bow in submission to His blessed will.

"Not dead, oh! no, the pastures green
His feet already tread;
The living waters he has quaffed—
He sleeps—he is not dead."

Not dead! not dead! he has but passed
The shining Jasper gates;
And, gone before you, smilingly,
Your coming he awaits.

Then let your tears be holy tears,
Fit for the sainted dead—
Not wrung in anguish and despair;
But softly, sweetly shed."

"At Rest."

"Smooth the bands of slivery hair,
Pillow her on roses rare;
Fold the hands that, now so calm,
We have earned their martyr's palm."

Yes, for her, her work is done;
She has fought her fight and won;
And she has laid her weary head
Such ineffable repose."

On Thursday, the 28th of August, was held occasion of the death of Mrs. ELIZABETH K. ALEXANDER. She had reached the advanced age of seventy-three years, and the greater number of these years were spent in her ancestral home in Fairfield, and relatives and friends who knew her but to love her. It was a large crowd, who sadly followed her earthly remains to the old Brick Church (Ebenezer) on the 29th of August. There a good sermon from the Rev. J. K. McCain was attentively heard. Then we saw her "laid to rest." There was and is much sympathy felt for her only sister, and son and four little motherless grandchildren, who so sorrowfully stood around the open grave. It will be sweet for them to remember their dear one's affection for them and theirs for her; for the memory entertained for a relative or friend deceased, so different from every other memory—it seems to speak in the heart, in truth it is the memory of the heart. How many things around them will touch the strings of this melancholy musings. They will open an album—the pictures of the loved one that is gone. Walking through the room, they will see that exquisite piece of work that was done by the one they loved. They are all memorials of their dear relative.

"We grieve not that the woods shall soon
By birds and blossoms be forsaken,
But, oh! we grieve for voices hushed,
That never, never shall awaken.
We miss the eyes that nevermore
Will flash their love-light into ours;
We sigh because they come no more,
In time of frost—in time of flowers."

Mrs. Anderson was the eldest daughter of Col. Wm. Kincaid, and she was the last, but one, in the State, of the proud race who love that name. About fifty years ago she was converted, and lived such a life that death found her not unprepared. She had many noble qualities as a Christian woman, among which were her kind hospitality and exalted power of entertaining. Let us hope her relatives and friends cherish in tender remembrance the silver treasures of her timely words. The Heavenly wisdom that controlled the heart and tongue of our friend was pure, peaceable, gentle, easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality and without hypocrisy. She bore her sufferings with Christian fortitude. "It is as well as a natural body," it is raised a spiritual body." Then, dear friend, we will bid you a long farewell, looking forward with the eye of faith to a meeting in the bright hereafter.
